Current Search Bulletin #342

Position: Program Manager, Airport Design-Build
Location: SOUTHERN ASIA

Our client is a well-known global planning, engineering, program and construction management firm. This firm has recently secured the Program Management component of a $1.2B (US) airport modernization and expansion in Southern Asia.

We have been asked to identify candidates for the lead role on this three-year program.

Our parameters include:

- Bare Minimum of 20 years' experience, with no less than ten years spent on aviation facility projects, both landside and airside;
- Previous leadership experience on projects with construction value of at least $1B (US);
- Past construction management or design experience preferred;
- Program Management experience required;
- Solid leadership and management credentials, but not at the price of technical know-how;
- Ability to commit for a three year period.

Standard Expatriate package applies, including housing transportation and tax equalization package.
