Position: Project Manager, Aviation
Location: Texas, US

Our client is an ENR Ranked Top 10 Aviation Consultant. Offerings in aviation include architecture, design, planning, design-build, CM and PM. Our client's Aviation business line is ranked among ENR's Top Ten. This firm successfully services GA and Commercial Service clients from several locations throughout the U.S. The Texas operation is among its most successful, servicing primarily Texas, but also contributing to project throughout the nation, from California to Florida.

Due to a recent promotion, the lead position in their Texas operation is open for recruitment. The predecessor to this role will be available to pass the baton, but will soon after relocate to another state.

This is a small, close-kit aviation-only office which currently services four commercial service and two GA airports within the state. Dependent upon experience level and professional goals, the individual selected in this position can focus on Production Management or can hold responsibility for the entire Texas aviation program.

The exact title and job description for this position is dependent upon the person who best qualifies for the role, as responsibilities and business plans are often arranged to take advantage of individual talents and professional goals.

Requirements include Project Management experience, a minimum of four years' engineering experience, with at least four years servicing GA or commercial service airport clients. Solid communication skills are a strong indicator of success in this role, and past supervisory experience is also preferred. As with all positions of this nature, a BSCE is a minimum requirement, as is the ability to obtain a P.E. in the specific state location.
